DANIELSON

Whether things are better or worse with Killingly High school basketball will be determined this (Friday) evening when collegians who were former high school students here will take on the present team of Killingly High in a contest that is to be staged in the town hall. Killingly had a wonderful team last year—a championship winner. Possibly it has another this year, it's too early to say as to that in December, but in any event the students are to comprise the attraction. There will be a chance to try out their skill and stamina that comprise former Killingly stars as Longo and Bligod, now of the Connecticut Agricultural college, and Black of Westport. This will be a game certain to arouse great interest among the student body and alumni as well as among patrons of high school games as a whole.

All records for mail handled during a Christmas week are being broken at the Danielson postoffice. Postmaster Raymond Allen said Thursday afternoon, and on Wednesday more sacks of mail went out than ever left the Danielson office in any one day in its history.

It appears that Santa Claus still holds a tremendous appeal. The spirit of the holiday season never was more manifest than it is in Danielson this Christmas time, and the public appears to want money with which to meet every reasonable wish.

Packages to friends in every section of the United States and in neighboring countries are pouring through the mails.

In a charge. On Wednesday 136 sacks were despatched from the Danielson office, 46 of these going out on the boat train in the evening. The office force is almost submerged in the greatest influx of letters and cards ever handled in the office. Today will mark the rising tide of incoming matter. How the force will stand up under this added burden of work is a matter for the future, but they were eager and willing Thursday night to face any and all tasks that may be placed upon them, and asserting that all holiday mail will be despatched and delivered here with unusual promptness.

In meeting the demands made upon them this week Postmaster Allen and his force of workers have been extended to their utmost, but the yhave been as uniformly cheerful and courteous and as accommodating during the rush period as during normal business periods, and as of this the public is fully appreciative.

As indicating how they are worked, it may be mentioned that Wednesday's stamp sales amounted to well over $200, which represents a lot of stamps when figured for the most part in denominations of one and two cents.

At a teachers' meeting of the teachers of Killingly and Brooklyn held on December 19th at the Danielson grammar school, Mrs. Lulu Bailey taught a first grade demonstration class illustrating certain principles in the teaching of reading. For the upper grades section Miss Marion B. Gammons taught an eighth grade history lesson. Pupils from the Danielson grammar school gave in both lessons. Mr. Farrin gave a talk on the subject of Individual Differences in Children. Miss Elizabeth E. Woodworth gave impressions of the National Education Association convention. Mr. Russell F. Lund, state director of elementary agriculture spoke to the teachers on work in agriculture in the grades.

Super. Leon N. Farrin of the schools in Killingly and Brooklyn has given out the following summary of eye tests reports among school children of these towns. Herewith is appended the information contained in the summary and dealing with the various schools of the two towns.

The Ladies' Aid recently held one of their most successful sales of useful and fancy articles, food and candy, which has added a good sum to their treasury.

New Britain.—Among the important matters that came up for action at the December meeting of the common council was a resolution for the issue of $250,000 bonds, for permanent payment to be laid during 1923.

One-half of the top floor measuring about 100x100 feet has been converted into a veritable Christmas fairy land under the direction of William F. Penny. It is inclosed with walls of spruce and fir, the pillars and ceiling are trimmed with evergreen, among which are hundreds of electric light bulbs. At one end, flanked by two large Christmas trees is a huge chimney. A fire will be burning in it Saturday night, but notwithstanding Santa Claus will come down the chimney with presents.

Santa have been installed for the children.

Some 2,000 years ago, more or less, an unremembered sage remarked that companions are odious, yet no restraint is felt in chronicling here that the Connecticut company's cars over the trolley lines through this territory have been operating almost exactly on schedule, with variations therefrom not worthy of mention right through the difficult period developed by ice storms and other weather troubles of the late fall, and on the other hand, confidence has been lost by many people in their ability to get a steam road train on time for weeks past, and this may be one reason for passengers traveling less than what it is on the big road.

Tomorrow (Saturday) evening there is to be a Christmas tree at the church in East Putnam. Music is to be by the Putnam orchestra.

WRECKED AUTO TRUCK

The big Pierce Arrow motor truck owned by the Winward company of Providence and driven by Paul B. B. through a fence bordering the state highway at Mechanicsville, broke through the ice and finally settled on the bottom of the mill pond of the French River Textile company was hauled out during the early hours of Thursday morning. The ponderous machine did not appear to be seriously damaged after its unusual plunge. Another truck figured in rescuing the sunken truck from the seven or eight feet of water in which it settled after smashing its way through ice nearly 10 inches in thickness.

Incidentally, one of the bales of cloth the truck was carrying when it went into the pond was ripped open late Wednesday night while the truck was left unattended and several cuts of cloth stolen. The bales were being carried from the plant of the Grovenordale company when the truck figured in the unusual experience—an experience that nearly cost Henry Meritt of Norwich, driver of the truck, his life, though he escaped with nothing apparently more serious than a thorough wetting in the ice cold water. His escape was regarded as bordering on the miraculous for he had to fight his way out of the cab after the truck took the plunge and then clamber up on the ice to safety.

There is 35 feet of clearance on the state highway, now bordered with a ridge of frozen snow and ice, where the accident occurred, yet the accident is declared to have been due to the fact that Miller pulled out possibly a bit too far to allow a pleasure vehicle to pass his big machine, which went out of control and could not be halted in time to prevent its figuring in one of the most peculiar truck accidents that has happened heretofore in a long, long time.

Nothing can be done by the city relative to furthering the plans for a municipal skating rink until after the common council meets in regular session on Tuesday, January 2. This was stated Thursday by Mayor Victor Chapdelaine, who is heartily in favor of the rink and has advocated the project since the Chamber of Commerce, which organization has the assurance of Henry A. Keagh that he will make about five acres of available pond space, near the old-time Tourletville swimming hole.

Without doubt the matter will come up for consideration at the January 2 meeting of the common council. The discussion of the matter will be held in the coat attached to making the rink a reality, and to do this a dam must be built to hold back the water on the site of the available pond space.

Creating the pond to be used for skating will not be an expensive matter, but it will involve the expenditure of money, so the matter will not be officially considered by the city fathers until just after the new year.

Thursday morning Captain Beni Delage of the Putnam police left here for Williamette, where he will be a participant in three weeks of winter sports and under the observation and care of Dr. Louis I. Mason. It is now indicated that Captain Delage likely will not have to submit to a surgical operation, but will be able to return home after leaving Putnam Thursday morning and confident that the course of treatment he is to undergo will restore his health and enable him to resume his usual duties as head of the police department later in the winter.

Superintendent John T. Hanton of the Manahasset Mfg. Co. has arranged a wonderful Christmas celebration for the children of his employees. It will be held Saturday evening on the top floor of the new building which has been elaborately decorated.

Santa Claus will distribute presents of toys and candy, to all of the children under 14 years of age of those connected with the company.

There will be a short programme of recitations and music at the celebration of a committee consisting of Principal Edward Snow, A. Newton Vaughn and George J. Paine, will be given cash prizes of $5, $3 and $2.

Then will follow the giving out of presents which are especially attractive and adapted to the ages of the children. During the evening there will be music by the Manahasset band.

Quick to sense the danger that will attach to coasting in streets where auto and other traffic is heavy, Mayor Victor Chapdelaine has issued a warning against allowing children to use such streets while they are out on the holiday vacation that begins this (Friday) afternoon. Mayor Chapdelaine says: "If an issuing this warning in the hope that the holiday season will pass without anyone being killed or injured."

Thursday at the French River in Mechanicsville J. M. Kennedy, member of the town school of Thompson, gave a Christmas tree party for all of the children who attended the Mechanicsville school. All of those gathered at the inn and had a delightful time, were given presents and served with refreshments. The Christmas parties have been established as an annual event for the Mechanicsville school children by Mr. Kennedy.

Today the body of Leroy W. Williams is to be brought from Worcester to the home of M. H. Walker in North Grovenordale, where services are to be held. Burial will be in Grove Street cemetery in this city. Mr. Williams, 55 years of age and a native of North Grovenordale, died suddenly Wednesday afternoon, following a severe attack of illness while at work in the community store he has been conducting in the Norton village section of Worcester.

Mr. Williams had just completed serving a customer when he complained to his wife that he could not move his left hand and an instant later, that his feet would not function in their accustomed manner. He was assisted to his home and died within an hour.

For more than a score of years Mr. Williams was station agent for the N. Y. N. H. and H. R. R. company at North Grovenordale and always was an efficient and courteous official. Several years ago he located in Worcester, since has been engaged in the community store business.

He leaves his wife and two daughters, Katherine and Mildred, all residents in Worcester, and his mother, Mrs. Anna A. Williams, who lives in North Grovenordale.

His death came as a shock to his relatives and also to the large number of old time friends in the neighboring town of Thompson.

JEWETT CITY

The funeral of John Driscoll was held at his home in New London on Thursday morning. Requiem mass was said at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Fr. Fitzsimons.

The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Lashon, Rev. J. J. McCabe officiating. The bearers were J. Edw. Driscoll of Norwich, Edward Driscoll of Whitinsville, John and Dennis Barnett, D. F. Fian and Dennis Griffin of Jewett City. There were relatives and friends present from New York, Norwich, Jewett City and Whitinsville. Hourigan Bros. were in charge of the arrangements.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid society met at Mrs. Fred Smith's on Thursday afternoon.

At a regular session of Reliance lodge, No. 29, I. O. O. F., held Monday evening the first degree was conferred on a class of candidates. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Frank Mel, noble grand; William J. Robertson, Jr., vice grand; David S. Bothwell, recording secretary; G. A. Haskell, financial secretary; William McCutcheon, treasurer; John W. Potts, trustee for three years. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 26, and the second degree will be conferred in full form. The appointive officers will be announced later. The installation will take place early in January by District Deputy Grand Master John P. Amburn of Norwich. Reliance lodge has suffered a loss of five members by death during the year. At the close of business of the present term the lodge will show a substantial gain.

Miss Mary M. Partridge of Hartford presented to Miss Ellen Prior at Riverside grammar school Thursday the $5 awarded by Mrs. H. C. Partridge of the best essay on one of four subjects, the subject chosen being Thomas Hooker.

Mrs. B. C. Bliss, regent of Anne Brewster Panning chapter, D. A. R., introduced Miss Partridge who spoke for her mother. The $5 gold piece was in a velvet case, very dainty in design. During Miss Partridge's stay she was entertained at Mrs. G. H. Jennings and Mrs. E. H. Hisco's.

Mrs. Arthur H. Strickland and two children, Marian and Arthur, of Middletown, are at Mrs. H. E. Paine's.

Ashland Cotton company's storehouse, next to the mill office was threatened with destruction by fire shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday night. While weighing cotton an electric light bulb was broken and the wire ignited the cotton. The mill whistle blew its call for the mill fire company, and later the regular fire whistle blew. Quick work subdued the blaze and the smoldering bales were thrown out of the windows. The damage by water and fire cannot be estimated at once, but will probably be several thousands of dollars. Earlier in the evening the hose company was called to the house owned by Mrs. Beecher on Railroad avenue for two fire alarms.

A GOOD SERVICE DRESS FOR SLENDER OR STOUT FIGURES

Comfortable, fullness and slenderness lines mark this desirable model. The back extends over the front to form a yoke section to which the fronts are gathered. There is a good style for pleated, gingham, gabardine and flannel.

The sleeve may be in wrist length or short, as illustrated.

The pattern is cut in seven sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 34-inch size requires 1-1/2 yards of 35-inch material. The width at the foot is 3-3/8 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps for our Up-to-Date Fall and Winter 1922-1923 Book of Patterns.

FOR DANCE OR PARTY

Soft fabrics such as Canton crepe or crepe de chine are best for a dress of this kind, but it is also nice for velvet and orpandy. The drapery may be omitted on the skirt as well as on the waist, as shown in the smaller illustration, and the sleeve finished in short or wrist length. Pocket or hemstitching is simple and effective for decoration.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 10-year size requires 4-1/2 yards of 35-inch material.
